Full Stack Web Development Bootcamp
Nov 2023 - Present

Geekster, Virtual

I am currently enrolled in a online Full Stack Web development Bootcamp by Geekster. Here the curriculum is divided into several modules. After each module we have to pass the online coding round and after that Interview. So we clear a module to enter next module. Currently I am in Last module of Front end Development that is Module 5.

PROJECTS

Online Resume Builder ↗
Sep 2024

The Online Resume Builder is an interactive web application designed to help users effortlessly create professional resumes. The platform offers a range of customizable templates where users can input personal details, educational background, work experience, and skills. With a dynamic real-time preview, the app allows users to see their resume take shape as they input information. Unique features include customizable sections for additional headings and subheadings, user authentication via local storage, and the ability to download the final resume in PDF or DOCX formats. The app is fully responsive, ensuring accessibility across devices, and includes visually appealing animations, making the resume-building process engaging and user-friendly.
